As an individual or joint holder you are required to complete the U.S. Tax Form. If you do not complete the U.S. Tax Form, or otherwise qualify for an exemption, you will have U.S. backup withholding tax deducted from your distributions.

If you have U.S. backup withholding tax deducted from your distribution, you will need to file a tax return in the United States to claim any tax refund or credit, if entitled, and you will not be entitled to claim a foreign tax credit in Australia.

Complete this form if you are an individual or joint holder and are a beneficial owner of units.

A beneficial owner is generally the person who is required under U.S. tax principles to report the income on their U.S. Income Tax Return (if they must file a U.S. Tax Return). A person is not a beneficial owner to the extent that person is receiving income or holding units for the benefit of someone else; for example, as a nominee, agent or custodian.

Instructions on how to complete each item on the form are set out below:

PART I – Identification of Beneficial Owner for United States

1. Clearly print your full name. This name should match the name in which your units are registered. If your units are jointly owned, each unitholder must complete and submit a separate U.S. Tax Form (refer to item 2).

2. Country of Incorporation or Organization

Clearly print the country that applies to the beneficial owner.

3. Complete line 3 only if you are a disregarded entity receiving a withholdable payment and you:

- 1) have registered with the IRS and been assigned a GIIN associated with the legal name of the disregarded entity;
- 2) are a reporting Model 1 FFI or Model 2 FFI; and
- 3) are not a hybrid entity using this form to claim treaty benefits.

4. Check the appropriate box for your entity type. Australian Superannuation Funds, including Self Manager Superannuation Funds are generally recognised as Complex Trusts. (You should seek your own advice in this regard.)

5. Check the appropriate box for your FATCA status. Australian Superannuation Funds, including Self Manager Superannuation Funds are recognised as Exempt retirement plans.

Parts II to XXVIII – complete the relevant certification as indicated at Part 1.5 where you have indicated your FATCA status.
